

Newpeople Cookie Statement (2021)

With your agreement you give permission for all services that are bound to the Newpeople brand, which fall under the services of all entities affiliated with Newpeople.

We make use of cookies on this website. A cookie is a simple small file that is sent along with pages from this website [and / or Flash applications] and is stored by your browser on the hard drive of your computer. The information stored therein can be sent back to our servers on a subsequent visit.

With the help of a session cookie we can see which parts of the website you have viewed during this visit. This allows us to adapt our service as much as possible to the surfing behavior of our visitors. These cookies are not automatically deleted when you close your web browser.

We use cookies to remember settings and preferences for an optimal experience. You can disable these cookies via your browser or via your profile page.

You have the right to request access to, correction or deletion of your data. See our contact page for this. To prevent abuse, we may ask you to identify yourself adequately. When it comes to access to personal data linked to a cookie, you must send a copy of the cookie in question.

You can only delete cookies yourself, as they are stored on your computer. Consult the manual of your browser for this.

Newpeople reserves the right to make changes to this Cookie Statement. Any adjustment will be published on this page. We recommend that you consult this document regularly, so that you are always aware of the content of the applicable Cookie Statement. For more information about the way in which we handle your data, please refer to our privacy statement.
